Washington State Patrol Trooper Travis Alexander was driving home from his retirement party last night when he saw an SUV veer off the road and hit the back of a red, blue and yellow Freightliner Cascadia Tractor trailer rig at the intersection of State Route 20 and State Route 193 about 10:30 p.m. Alexander ran the plates on the SUV and learned that the driver was in the midst of a two-year stint in jail for driving under the influence. He immediately pulled the driver and several passengers from the SUV and put them in the back of his trooper car, then followed the Freightliner truck. “The rig was traveling at a high rate of speed, but slowed down to make the right turn onto 193,” Alexander said. “Several cars in front of it slowed down to allow the rig to make the turn. The driver started applying his brakes and rolling through the stop.” Alexander pulled the rig over and informed the driver of the DUI and asked him what happened, to which he replied, “I was so tired and I ran out of gas.” The driver’s license was suspended and the other passengers’ licenses were revoked. “They were all children,” Alexander said. “This wasn’t a serious accident – it was human error.” Anthony Thomas Anthony Thomas Photo: Washington State Patrol He said his heart went out to the family.
