In it's first year of publication, DFIR has named at least one of the products we received in for review as a "Best" for a reason. When we saw the UFED in action, we couldn't help but be impressed. The UFED was absolutely plug-and-play, I didn't even have to plug anything in. Cellebrite has proven time and again that a vendor-neutral, new generation of data extraction tools can bring the benefits of DFIR to more and more investigations. UFED to the table, they have made a great tool. COFEM Cybersecurity - Cellebrite UFED - Physical Analyzer for Windows 7/Vista/XP (32/64 bit) - Full Feature and License Key with Crack and Serial Number and Activation Key!Or, as Trump's bizarrely-named Personnel Security Administrator, Rob Porter, would say: In the name of the American people, I am requesting that you intervene to ensure that this dangerous individual is removed from government service. In the name of the American people. In the name of the law and order that is the job of our new Secretary of Homeland Security—who, for the record, is a lawyer—and of the President, who is empowered to issue firings by the laws of the United States. In the name of the courts that upheld him when he was confirmed, specifically the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals, the only court he would not appeal to. He could have. He could have appealed to the Supreme Court, which hears 9-11 every week of the year. He could have appealed to the D.C. Court of Appeals, which is the only court in the country that decided that he did not actually break the law. He could have appealed to any of the federal courthouses around the country. He could have appealed to the Supreme Court of any of those states. In the name of decency, dignity, fairness. In the name of, you know, being the nominee of a man running for the highest office in the land. The fact that Porter continued to maintain his employment while being accused of domestic violence is possibly the only thing, other than his nomination, that is a bipartisan issue. (I'm looking at you, Chelsea Handler.) As President, I have the right to appoint people to positions within the federal government, regardless of whether or not that person has committed a crime 1cb139a0ed
