The disease burden of severe bronchiolitis and pneumonia is often underestimated in countries with limited resources. Objective ===== To analyze the mortality and short-term risk of complications in children hospitalized for severe bronchiolitis and pneumonia in a city in the South of Brazil. Methods ===== Children admitted for severe bronchiolitis or pneumonia were identified at hospitals in the city of Porto Alegre, Brazil. Data regarding admission and discharge dates, underlying diseases, admission duration, and hospitalization outcome were collected from the records of the National Register of Emergency Care. In addition, in-hospital death was ascertained by analysis
