Friday, December 10, 2015 Just Cause 4: Day One Edition REPACK-FitGirl + 5 DLCs Whoa look the day we arrived at the most important day of the year, Christmas! We are expecting a few huge releases of games on the 28th December and I am going to check them out first before we get into the more important release of the week. On the 10th December we have Just Cause 4: Day One Edition, a Special Early Access release on Steam with a Bioshock Edition. If you preorder the Day One Edition, you get the full Just Cause 4 game at no extra cost. This includes the Bioshock Edition which was only available with preordering the Day One Edition. This special edition of Just Cause 4 is released in the style that we know all too well from Skyward Sword. A Game Of The Year Edition that has a few tweaks made to it to make it a little more special for those who are getting a couple of months earlier than most of us. Let's take a look at the features from Just Cause 4: Day One Edition, starting with the Bioshock Edition. REED SCISSORED George shares his research with Rico and his new best friend Cassie. All together this is a vicious and twisted family, who is more interested in dancing and drinking with him than saving Rook Island. Air Superiority You can fly over any surfaces in Just Cause 4. Better Weapons Smoke Grenades are a bit better in Just Cause 4, as they now decrease the timer on the ability to recycle it. Fashion choice As Rico is more of a Rockstar-style hero, due to a hidden Bioshock reference in the game. Through with the Old Rico is better able to break down all the doors in Just Cause 4. What else is there to do? Gun Modules Being a Bioshock reference, you can find Gun Modules in the game. As the Gun Modules can be in old bioshock games, they are unlocked at a certain level in this game. Just Cause 4: Day One Edition will be available on the 28th December 2015. Preorder the special day one edition to get the full game for free. Freedom Fighters: The Choice is Yours! Modern Warfare® 4: Ghosts of N.J.

Assassin's Creed Awakening. T..City Council's Budget Committee will take up an approval package for new sewer later this morning, and it will include a recommendation to: Apologize for the sewer utility's recent sanitary sewer disconnections; Use the city's flood prevention efforts to help pay for the water and sewer projects; and Raise the sewer rates and increase water rates to fund the repairs. Those recommendations are expected to be "reached in conference" with city administration after a discussion of the item in committee, by a voice vote of 8-0. That means they will be adopted as part of the committee's final report to City Council when it considers the budget later this afternoon. Council must still approve the final package at its meeting before the end of the month. Council will also consider a proposal by Austin Eastside Fabrication that would reclassify the city's Water District 1. That district includes the UT campus and the Medical District. This item was approved by the Water and Wastewater Committee after a hearing at City Council last night, and is expected to come to Council on Friday. The council will be considering a compromise that would reallocate the city's existing water and wastewater contracts, providing "better rates and service" to city residents. Council originally had two options, but now it has one to consider: Option A: Repurposing the existing water and wastewater contracts in a way that would provide a $2/month rate reduction for the majority of Austin Water's 4.2 million customers. Option B: Repurposing the existing water and wastewater contracts in a way that would provide $7.40/month rate reduction for the majority of Austin Water's 5.7 million customers, while simultaneously increasing water rates for all other customers. Council's Budget Committee will hear a proposal on both options during a special session at 9 d0c515b9f4
