Be a habit - it will pay off sooner or later! How would you like to have something that pays you back for every day that you spend? We like to think that we do. I mean, we work harder at staying on top than anyone else! We've even tried to use the website to demonstrate the concept. But, it's the wrong place for telling our story! It's also not as clear as it could be. This is what our new interface is all about. It's dedicated to our philosophy and should get us across in a no-nonsense way. We've been working on this since we decided to make the switch back to using our own money instead of working for backers. We also want it to be a reflection of who we are, and how we do our work. We're as fans of fan-communities and all that goes with that, but we do our best to be a welcoming, constructive and encouraging community – but we don't want to be so welcoming that we don't make people feel welcome! Let's work together to get this right. Click for full blog

To investigate the influence of iodine on the kinetics of iodide uptake and metabolism and the role of thyroid hormone in this effect, 7 adult healthy volunteers were given a multifactorial loading dose of 75 mCi of ¹³¹I iodide. T₄, T₃, ¹³¹I, and ¹²³I were measured during and after the period of radioiodide ingestion (mean +/- SD: 150 +/- 8 d). The L-T₄ was 813 +/- 101 microgram/l (range: 733-1006), T₃: 7.8 +/- 1.8 microgram/l (range: 5.5-9.3) and TSH: 0.6 +/- 0.2 microU/ml (range: 0.3-0.8). The radioactive iodine counts in
